Deliver on Your Desire to Help Others

The online M.Ed. in Counseling and Development at Winthrop University delivers the knowledge and deep experience you need to become a licensed mental health counselor, preparing you to take the National Counselor Exam (NCE) and the National Clinical Mental Health Counseling Exam (NCMHCE).*

The program is:

- Accredited — Coursework meets the standards of and is accredited by the Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP).
- Flexible — Learning online means learning when and where is best for you.
- Supportive — Classes are kept small and you'll learn alongside a consistent cohort of professionals. This allows for deep engagement between yourself, faculty, and peers.
- Career Focused — Choose a concentration in School Counseling or Clinical Mental Health to get the rich hands-on experience and robust knowledge you need to excel in your specialty.
- Experience-Based — You'll start working with clients quickly — in your very first practicum — under the careful guidance of faculty and supervisors. In total, you'll complete 700 hours of supervised client contact in practicums and internships.
- Preparatory — Graduate prepared to sit for the National Counselor Exam (NCE) and the National Clinical Mental Health Counseling Exam (NCMHCE).

Professional Licensure Disclosure*

Requirements for professional licensure in counseling vary from state to state. Winthrop's School Counseling program is designed to meet SC and NC licensure requirements for school counseling and may not meet requirements from other states. We are unable to make a determination about whether or not our program will lead to licensure in other states. Before beginning any academic program that leads to licensure, we strongly recommend you contact the state licensing board where you wish to seek licensure to determine whether the program you are considering will meet that state's licensing requirements.
